

My wife and I did a little gift basket. We used our stimulus check to get our neighbors a Costco gift card and a large pack of multivitamins.

We wrote a simple letter:

Hello Neighbor,

My wife and I just wanted to show some love to our neighbors. I know some of you haven't even met us but we are thinking about you. We know we are in a weird season and it seems like fear is controlling the narrative. We believe that loving actions are more powerful than fear. That's why we feel compelled to show some love. We also wanted to let you know my wife and I are committed to praying for our neighbors every day. We are praying for your health: body, soul and spirit. We want to be there for our neighbors so if you ever need anything from groceries to a listening ear we are here. Don't hesitate to call. We are stronger together.

PS: If you don't have a Costco membership you can still use that card at their gas station.

*Love,
Fagundes Family
